

Locksmith® Archiving

User Testimonials

Key findings reported by Locksmith users

Please note that the software product is sold under the Locksmith brand name in the western hemisphere by Unbeaten Path. In Europe, the identical product is sold as Small Blue Archiving.

Hexcel Composites

After using Locksmith, the elapsed time to run the General Ledger month-end reconciliation process declined from 10.50 hours to 2.25 hours.

Clover Dairy Products

While practicing for a weekend data conversion from BPCS v6.1 to v8.2, it was determined that the conversion process would take more time than would be available during the cutover window. They then acquired Small Blue Archiving and archived over 25 million records. This had a dramatic effect on response times and cut their data conversion time by more than 50%.

Baxters Food Group

“... by our estimates we have returned the production system response to that experienced when we first installed the AS/400 and BPCS around 5 years ago. It is an exceptionally intuitive product requiring little in the way of set-up it was installed and functional in a very short period of time”

Impress Metal Packaging SA

Locksmith allowed them to restart their BPCS order numbers after they reached 900,000. Users could still interrogate the orders from the archived sequence.

Jotun Paints

Locksmith software usage removed the need to upgrade their machine – saving them a considerable amount of time, money and hassle.
